CME Replacing Animals in MBBS Programs

16th January, 2012

Venue:

St. John's Medical College
Sarjapur Road
Bangalore – 560 034

Sponsored by:

People for the Ethical Treatment of Animals (PETA) India
PO Box 28260, Juhu, Mumbai 400 049

Invitation:

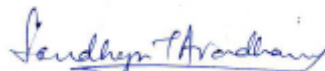

The objective of the CME is to teach participants how they can replace the use of animals with alternatives in their Bachelor of Medicine and Bachelor of Surgery (MBBS) curricula.

MBBS programs frequently use live animals in experiments, even though humane and educationally-superior alternative methods are available and widely used in medical training programs around the world as replacements for animal use. The Medical Council of India also states that "experimental work on animals can be demonstrated by Computer Aided Education".

In this CME, we will introduce various alternatives to the use of animals (e.g., computer assisted learning, human patient simulation).

On behalf of the organizing committee, and with thanks to St. John's Medical College for hosting this event, I extend a warm welcome and invite you to attend this CME to modernize your MBBS curricula.

With regards & best wishes,
